HODGES' ANTHEMS.

By D. F. Hodges. A collection of new anthems, sentences, motets, chants, and responses, for opening and closing public worship. Especially designed for the use of choirs. Adapted to the wants of musical associations, conventions, and so forth.

The success of Hodges' Anthems has induced the editor to prepare another new book of similar character, with a slight advance in the direction of musical brilliancy, and more worthy of study.

To this task the editor has brought much research and care during the past year. Hence in this work will be found many arrangements, which hitherto have been known to the musical world only, as gems of melody, and which appear here for the first time harmonized, and adapted to use in public worship. To these are added the contributions of professional friends, and the editor's compositions; the whole forming a collection which, it is believed, will be found to merit what is claimed for it,— a book, new, attractive, and practicable, for choirs, musical associations, and conventions.

PRICE 75 CENTS.
